

Leverage Real-Time News for Fintech Success

Access to structured, real-time news data is essential for fintech companies looking to make swift, informed decisions and maintain a competitive edge.

Opoint's real-time news feeds offer the precision and speed needed to navigate today's dynamic market conditions.

Why Real-Time Data Matters

Informed Decision-Making: With access to over 4 million articles daily from 235,000+ sources across 220 jurisdictions and 150 languages, fintech companies can make decisions based on the most current information available.

Staying Ahead of Trends: Our average delivery time of just 7 minutes from publication ensures that you're always at the forefront of industry developments. This speed allows you to anticipate and respond to market changes faster than your competitors.

Building a Competitive Advantage: Opoint's data is delivered in a clean, ad-free, machine-readable format, ready for integration into your financial models and analyses. This structured approach cuts through the noise, providing only the most relevant information.
